

For the prevention of youth suicide and depression

Youth Focus is a unique independent not for profit organisation that supports vulnerable young people in Western Australia by offering a range of mental health services. We operate with a team of highly trained and skilled psychologists, social workers and occupational therapists to provide a range of early intervention and prevention services free of charge, aimed at supporting young people and their families to overcome the issues associated with suicide, depression and self harm.

We aim to understand young people and their difficulties within the broader context of their lives which includes family, friends, school and their local community. This understanding acknowledges the effect of past experiences, the significance of current issues and circumstances, and the nature of adolescence as a life stage.

We provide our free services in a way that are “youth friendly”, flexible, needs driven and personalised. We offer our services from our offices located in Burswood, Joondalup, Fremantle, Rockingham, Mandurah, Bunbury, Collie and Albany as well as via our schools and outreach programs.

How You Can Help

For anyone who has lost a young person, known someone who has lost a young person to suicide or knows a young person who is finding they cannot cope, this is your opportunity to bring the issue of youth suicide to the forefront and prevent youth suicide in this state.

You can support Youth Focus by donating money towards the further prevention of youth suicide, depression and deliberate self harm for young people aged 12-18 years of age in the Western Australian community.
